Council Delays Override Vote On Income Tax

Criticizes Mayor,
Solicitor About
Weight Ordinance

City Council, which last night was expected to override Mayor Dean Crammer's veto of the income tax ordinance didn't so much as mention the tax at a two-hour session Tuesday.

It could meet again in special session before the law is to take effect Oct. 1.

The income tax passed Aug. 23 by Council was vetoed Sept. 1 by Mayor Crammer. According to law, Council had to wait until 10 days from the passage of the measure before taking any further action.

A special meeting of Council, to be called upon the expiration of the 10-day limit, was discussed but never held.

If Council intends to override the veto, it will require an affirmative vote from two thirds of the elected members of Council.

The ordinance calls for the levy of one-half of one per cent, with collections to commence Oct. 1, 10 days from today. The tax was to run for 15 months.

One of the points made in the mayor's veto message was that the estimated yield of $200,000 was excessive. He said the city could get along on 25 per cent of that total or $25,000.

At the same time the mayor said he felt a street weight ordinance would alleviate the financial condition of the city by providing needed revenue for the General Fund. At present trucks with over-weight vehicles are arrested by state patrolmen and fined under state statute. Under this setup the city keeps only $27.50 of every $100 collected in fines, with the remainder going to the state and county.

However, the mayor and City Solicitor James D. Primm came under fire from Council President Michael Schuller and Councilman Carl Abe last night.

President Schuller said that in the light of past efforts taken to get such an ordinance, any delay should be attributed to the mayor and solicitor, not Council.

The issue was brought up by Councilman Albert Lesch who asked whatever became of the weight ordinance he requested back on April 5. He said he knew that Council members had copies of a proposed ordinance but no action had ever been taken on the measure.

Councilman Abe retorted that he had attempted to hold meetings with the mayor and the solicitor but was unable to get Solicitor Primm to attend the meetings.

He said a sample ordinance, according to Council, Page 8

E. Palestine Council Okays Sale of Bonds

EAST PALESTINE — Council Tuesday night agreed to proceed immediately with the sale of $500,000 in mortgage revenue bonds to finance a proposed $336,500 improvement to the municipal light plant.

Meeting with representatives of five bonding companies, Council decided to sell the bonds under competitive bidding at its next meeting Oct. 3. Interest rates and premiums will be prime factors in the bidding.

The bonding firms offered to submit rate schedules adequate to retire the bonds which will bear a 20-year maturity date.

Council last night also employed Floyd G. Brown & Associates, Marion engineering firm that conducted the survey of the plant's needs, as resident engineers. The company will do the engineering and supervise the contract work on the project.

The three major parts of the project are a new boiler, $537,000; high line, $130,000; and auxiliary equipment, $175,000.

The over-all survey also called for a new 7,500 kilowatt turbine at a cost of $850,000. Council said it will not act on this phase of the survey yet.

Nikita Target of Demonstrations

U.N. Heads Toward Debate as Violence Rages on Streets

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The United Nations moved toward debate today on the cold war's deadliest issues while violence raged in New York streets. Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

Amtorg Reports Plot to Kill Nikita

NEW YORK (AP) — Amtorg, Russian trading corporation, told police today it had received a report that an attempt would be made here on the life of Premier Khrushchev.

Amtorg's information to police was that the attempt would be made with a gun hidden in either a camera or a microphone.

Police immediately began examining photographic and broadcasting equipment carried by newsmen reporting the premier's activities.

Khrushchev was the target of two fierce demonstrations.

Mounted police charged one crowd. Night sticks were used on another. Howling men and women retaliated, hurling eggs and firecrackers.

Persons who said they were Poles, Hungarians, Yugoslavs, Greeks, Albanians and anti-Castro Cubans swarmed through the streets. They clustered around Khrushchev's Park Avenue residence, Fidel Castro's hotel in Harlem, and the Yugoslav headquarters where President Tito is staying.

Other groups paraded carrying pacifist signs, and still others carried placards bearing the slogan, "Ike be courteous."

Khrushchev complained after a police captain grappled with Gen. Nicolai Zaharov, Soviet security chief.

A formal protest—brought to the floor of the General Assembly itself—came from Koca Popovic, Yugoslavia's foreign minister. He broke in his welcoming speech for 14 nations, newly admitted to the United Nations.

He demanded that the United States disperse the lines of pickets in front of Tito's headquarters.

President to Address U.N. Thursday

Ike Will Propose African Aid Plan

NEW YORK (AP) — President Eisenhower will offer a vast new plan for African aid and suggest a U.N. aerial peace patrol when he addresses the United Nations Thursday, the New York Herald Tribune reported today.

The newspaper's lead story said specific proposals in the speech draft cast the world organization in a starring role in contrast with recent Soviet efforts to circumvent the United Nations.

The President, it said, will urge that the United Nations be given greater responsibility than ever in a wide range of affairs, in what amounts to a vote of confidence in the U.N.

The newspaper article describes the program as something in "preventive diplomacy" — designed to have help ready to keep any situation from getting out of hand, instead of rushing in aid after a situation already has become critical.

The New York Times also reported on President Eisenhower's speech, saying that he would renew his "open skies" proposal first suggested at the Geneva summit conference in 1955. The Soviets rejected it then.

The New York Daily News carried a similar story.

The Herald Tribune said it has learned the United States has an "open skies" plan for guarding the world against surprise attack by sending up high-altitude reconnaissance planes.

The airplanes could be flown by pilots recruited by the U.N. and answerable to it. Or the planes could be flown by non-U.N. pilots but under some form of U.N. supervision.

In either case, the United States

School District Study Opens

Franklin-Carroll
Merger Proposed

LISBON — An Ohio University survey team is scheduled to begin a study today of Southern and Franklin Local School Districts. County Supt. J. L. McBride reported to Columbiana County Board of Education here Tuesday evening.

The county board requested the study early in the summer after Carroll County's board asked the State Department of Education to study the possibility of merging Franklin with several local districts in Carroll County.

Franklin, an eight-year district with an elementary school at Summitville, is bounded east and south by Southern, north by United Local and west and south by Carroll County.

Two representatives of the State Department of Education began a study of Southern, Franklin and Carroll County districts yesterday.

Southern is the county system's newest district — a consolidation of Salsineville, Yellow Creek and Wayne Districts. It has a high school at Salsineville and has applied for state aid to build a new centrally-located high school.

McBride also announced that the county system's first "college night" will be held Tuesday, Nov. 15 at Beaver Local High School.

Representatives of 10 area colleges and universities, two hospitals and the armed services will meet with approximately 250 juniors and seniors of the county's four high schools.

There will be three one-half hour sessions so students will have a wider selection. Schools invited to send spokesmen are Ohio State University, Ohio University, Kent University, Mount Union College, Malone College, Muskingum College, Geneva College, Westminster College and Steubenville College.

The board appointed Mrs. Elizabeth Strabley of Salsineville its delegate to the Ohio School Boards Association Convention Nov. 9-11 at Columbus.

Col. Mobutu Tightens Grip On Leopoldville

Troops Take Over
Radio Station,
Government Offices

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP) — Steel-helmeted Congolese soldiers took over government offices and Leopoldville radio station today in a new crackdown on supporters of ousted Premier Patrice Lumumba.

Col. Joseph Mobutu—who proclaimed a military coup on Sept. 14 but failed then to take over the government machinery—suddenly tightened his grip on the capital.

His soldiers had turned officials of the Lumumba government out of their offices in the government building, but this morning the Lumumba officials returned and resumed their work as though nothing had happened.

Stunned Into Building
An hour later a heavily armed unit of the Congolese army in khaki canvas uniforms and helmets stormed into the building.

All the Lumumba officials were expelled for the second time. A captain of Mobutu's troops locked all the office doors and collected the keys. He said the Technical Commission appointed by Mobutu Tuesday, to run the government until the end of the year would take possession of the offices.

Crowds of Congolese officials gathered in the street outside the building—built as the headquarters of the former Belgian colonial administration—but were not molested by the soldiers.

It appeared that Mobutu was using units from the Thysville garrison for his crackdown.

While one unit took over the government building, another surrounded the headquarters of the National Security Police on Avenue Lippens—exactly opposite the official premier's residence where Lumumba is living under protection of U.N. Ghana troops.

Security chief Charles Muzungu and his staff were ordered out of

Negotiations Still On For Parking Lot

Mayor Dean Crammer told City Council Tuesday night that he is still negotiating for the purchase of one remaining lot on the site of the proposed municipal parking lot on E. Pershing St.

Options are held on other needed properties on Penn Ave.

Bids on part of the construction work were opened two weeks ago. However, no contract has been let pending the outcome of current negotiations for the one property.

Council, the mayor and the Chamber of Commerce's retail merchants division has been working on the parking lot program for months.

An ordinance transferring $3,831.67 from the Water Department replacement fund to the new equipment fund was approved by Council last night enabling the Utilities Commission to purchase tapping and cutting tools.

According to Aubrey Hayes, utilities superintendent, the Commission will award contracts to the A. P. Smith Manufacturing Co. for a tapping machine at a cost of $3,069; to the Wheeler Manufacturing Co. for a hydraulic pipe cutting machine.

Farmers to Be Hosts To City Folks Oct. 12

A farm tour and dinner meeting Wednesday, Oct. 12, for business and professional men of Salem is the first of several programs planned or this fall by the rural-urban committee of Columbiana County Agricultural Council.

Cooperating in the various activities aimed at improving understanding between farm and city groups are the Agricultural Extension Service, Farm Bureau, the Grange, Rural Clubs and other groups.

H. L. Reuter of Lisbon, work unit conservationist for Columbiana Soil Conservation District, is committee chairman.

The second event is scheduled for Nov. 16, when East Liverpool Chamber of Commerce will be host to rural people of its area for a noon dinner and tour of East Liverpool plants. East Liverpool farmers were hosts for a similar event last year.

The tour of farms in the Salem-Winona area will begin Oct. 12 at 2 p.m. and dinner will be served at 7:15 p.m. in the Winona Methodist Church. Riley Dougan of the ANTI-CASTRO GROUP IN MOURNING — Part of group of 62 Cuban women leave St. Patrick's Cathedral in New York Tuesday after offering prayers of mourning for death of freedom in their native land. The anti-Castro group, known as the Women of Cuba, arrived at the cathedral in chartered buses on last leg of a "journey of mourning" which began three days earlier in Miami, Fla. They wore black mantillas and black dresses and carried candles. Some of the women also wore sun glasses to hide identities as a security against reprisals against their families still residing in Cuba.

Alfred VonKaenel Victim

Beloit Man Killed In Auto Accident

A 64-year-old Beloit man was killed and three other persons seriously injured in two separate accidents on area highways Tuesday.

Dead on arrival at Salem Central Clinic was Alfred VonKaenel, 64, of RD 1, Beloit.

Columbiana County Coroner William A. Kolozsi said today post-mortem studies will be made to check the possibility that the victim may have suffered a heart attack seconds before the car which he was driving collided with another auto at 8:25 p.m. on Rt. 165, about a half mile east of Alternate Rt. 14, near Beloit.

Injured in the accident were Wendell Moore, 32, of 211 E. 11th St., Alliance, driver of the other car involved; and his passenger, Larry Lewis, 13, Moore's stepson.

Moore suffered contusions and abrasions of his hands and leg and a possible fractured nose. The Lewis youth sustained head lacerations and possible rib injuries.

Both are listed in fair condition today at Salem Central Clinic.

The other serious injury yesterday was to an East Liverpool boy, David Pickens, 16, who crashed his motorbike head on into a truck at 3:40 p.m. on Bell School Rd. just north of East Liverpool. He was taken to East Liverpool City Hospital with fractures of both legs, a possible skull fracture, abrasions and lacerations.

The two-car accident which claimed the life of VonKaenel occurred at the intersection of Rt. 165 and the Secrest Rd., just inside the Mahoning County line. The Lisbon barracks of the highway patrol which investigated the accident said VonKaenel apparently pulled from the county road into the path of the Moore vehicle which was headed west on Rt. 165.

The East Liverpool youth was injured, the patrol said, when he was attempting to pass another vehicle and ran head on into a truck

Group Asks Opening Of Ridgewood Dr.

A delegation of residents in the area of Ridgewood Drive attended last night's City Council meeting requesting something be done about opening Ridgewood between Jefferson and Edgewood Aves.

The street is presently barricaded, necessitating an extended and long trip by school children attending Reilly School.

Council requested that the mayor investigate the situation and see if a path through the closed street could be arranged.

Councilman Michael Schuller, City Engineer F. S. Barchhoff and Mayor Crammer explained that the street was closed so that vehicular traffic would not get stranded in an undeveloped road. They noted that last year many motorists became mired in the road.

Schuller called attention to the fact that the street, although dedicated, has never been accepted for maintenance, therefore, is not a city responsibility.

Barchhoff explained that before the street will be accepted for maintenance by the city a base must be installed in the right-of-way. He said this responsibility falls on the property owners abutting on the street.

A delegation of residents from E. Pershing St., east of Madison Ave. petitioned City Council to prevent the zoning change of the section of E. Pershing St. east of Madison.

They said they felt changing the area from residential one-family dwelling to permit the establishment of a nursing home would cause depreciation of their property values. The zoning change was brought to Council's attention at its last regular meeting.

Last night's petition, signed by 12 residents, was referred to the Zoning Commission.

Council had to temporarily reject requests made last night for the installation of lights on several streets after Councilman Donald Cannon, chairman of the lighting committee, indicated there is no equipment or money available for such expenditures.

Cannon asked for a meeting of the street lighting committee later

Five Flee Jail, Two Recaptured

Canton Man Caught
After Newark Break

NEWARK, Ohio (AP) — Five prisoners—three of them convicted armed robbers and all awaiting transfer to Ohio Penitentiary—saved their way out of Licking County jail Tuesday night. By daybreak today, two were back in custody.

All the escapees had just been sentenced to penitentiary terms Monday in Common Pleas Court. Two of them were Robert B. Hoffee, 31, of Delroy, Carroll County, and Milton P. Schneider, 20, of Canton, who achieved notoriety in July when they staged several tavern holdups in central and northeast Ohio and allegedly kidnapped Granville town marshal Curt Kuhn. They let him go after threatening him.

Schneider was recaptured about 6 a.m. today in Frazesburg, Muskingum County, 16 miles east of here. Also finding freedom shortly was William Merritt, 22, of Mansfield, who was picked up at about 6:15 a.m. on a downtown Newark street after a tipster called officers.

Still at large this morning along with Hoffee were Albert Bradford, 20, of West Lafayette, Coshocton County, and Erwin E. Wolford, 20, also of Coshocton County.

Merritt, like Hoffee and Schneider, was sentenced Monday to a 10-25 year prison term for armed robbery. Bradford and Wolford

Heads Patrol Post

Sgt. E. W. Mallery

State Highway Patrol Sgt. Edward W. Mallery of the Franklin Rd., who has been at the Massillon district barracks for the past five years, was re-assigned to the Columbiana County Post 15 barracks at Lisbon today as officer in charge.

Sgt. Mallery, who has continued to make his home in Salem despite his transfer to Massillon in 1955 where he was promoted from corporal to sergeant, said the re-assignment is part of a move in the Ohio Highway Patrol to place sergeants in charge of all Patrol posts.

Court Action Hits Merger With Mullins

Company Agrees to Divest Itself Of Salem, Warren Plants

American Radiator & Standard Sanitary Corp. has agreed to divest itself of its Youngstown Kitchens Division in Salem and Warren.

U.S. Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers said the action came about as the result of court action. He said an antitrust consent judgment entered in U.S. District Court at Pittsburgh requires American-Standard to offer the Kitchens Division

Bliss Denies Rumors Of Plant Purchase

"There is no foundation to the rumor that the E. W. Bliss Co. has bought the American-Standard Corp. plant in Salem," James Harrington, Bliss' director of public relations, said today.

His statement was a denial of a report made by a radio station that Bliss had bought or was buying the factory, following American-Standard's announcement that it would divest itself of its kitchens division holdings in Salem and Warren because of an anti-trust suit.

Bliss did acquire Standard's former office building this spring and has partially occupied it.

for prompt sale, on terms acceptable to the court.

American-Standard acquired the Kitchens Division through a merger transaction in January 1956 when it exchanged stock for the common stock of Mullins Manufacturing Corp. of Salem.

The judgment also provides that for a period of five years, American-Standard may not acquire any interest in a competing manufacturer of plumbing fixtures or fittings or steel kitchen cabinets, except with the assent of the Justice Department or specific permission of the Pittsburgh court.

The government charged consolidation of American-Standard and Mullins reduced competition in the kitchen equipment and plumbing field and enhanced American-Standard's competitive advantage over other manufacturers of these products.

The government said that American-Standard, with assets of $235 million, was the largest maker of kitchen sinks and bathtubs in the United States with a line also including steel cabinets and plumbing fixtures.

Mullins, with assets of $42 million, was the largest manufacturer of steel kitchen sinks and cabinets, sold as the "Youngstown Kitchens," and also produced plumbing fixtures.

The divestment order also covers the former Mullins steel-stamping business here.

The judgment requires American-Standard to maintain the Warren and Salem enterprises as going businesses until such time as they are sold to others.

In the fall of 1958 American-Standard consolidated its Kitchens Division operations at the Warren plant, leaving the Salem operation to handle steel fabricating in other lines.

That move resulted in the closing of Plant 3 and layoffs in September and October of that year.

500 Work at Salem Plant
Today, however, as the result of a concentrated effort to improve the local situation approximately 500 persons are employed in the main plant here.

Regarding future plans, Joseph A. Graziop, American-Standard president, said in a letter to The Salem News:

"The court settlement was made to remove the uncertainty under which the Youngstown Kitchens Division has been obliged to operate since the suit was commenced."

Pennsylvania Governor's Wife Writes Couple Who Lost Son

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — No words, however tender, can take away the pain that comes from losing a child.

But if they come from the heart, words can do the next best thing. They let those who grieve know that others grieve with them, and that they hope for something, in time, akin to healing.

So it is with Almeta and Albert Kunkle, who live in the town of Ephrata, Lancaster County.

The Kunkles lost their son, Paul, 10, in an automobile accident on Labor Day.

The Kunkles are well-liked. It was to be expected that they should get many letters of condolence.

But one letter came which was indeed a surprise. It is a letter Mrs. Kunkle reads over and over. She draws comfort from it. Her heart warms to the busy, high-placed couple who sent it. She is especially grateful to the woman who wrought into the letter her own sorrow over a similar loss.

It was Mrs. David Lawrence, wife of Pennsylvania's governor, who wrote it.

"The governor and I were greatly distressed to read of the tragedy that has come to you, and we want you to know we have our deepest sympathy," the letter says.

"Because we lost two of our boys in an auto accident, we realize how difficult it will be for you to accept the fact that Paul was taken from you at such an early age. Mere words are most inadequate to express our feeling for you at this time.

"However, you are in our thoughts and we pray God may give you the strength and courage you need to endure these dark days."

To the Kunkles, the Lawrences are no longer remote figures in a remote mansion. They are all good neighbors together now, for they have sorrowed as one.

Ever since a shattering night in April 1942 when the Lawrences learned that two of their sons—one 13, the other 16—had been killed, Mrs. Lawrence has been writing letters of sympathy to parents who have lost children in any kind of accident.

She makes each letter personal. There are many letters every week, every month.

Lawrence and his wife were entertaining friends in their Pittsburgh home when the telephone rang that night over 18 years ago. He took the call. After what seemed an eternity of trying to compose himself, he turned and said: "Alyce, our boys are gone."

Rarely does he talk about it. But he shares his wife's feeling that the grief of one afflicted family touches all families so bereft. He has given Pennsylvania one of the nation's most vigorous traffic safety programs, and on the subject of careful driving he is a tireless and passionate speaker.

Columbiana Council Acts on Traffic Bill

COLUMBIANA — An ordinance authorizing the chief of police to post signs for control of traffic during periods of emergency was started on its way to becoming law at the Village Council meeting Tuesday night, when the measure was approved at its first reading.

The ordinance, which would become effective after two more readings, limits the period of any such traffic change to three weeks or less, unless confirmed by Council, thus keeping ultimate control in the hands of the legislative body.

The measure contains a provision for penalty against violators, a fine of not less than $5 or more than $50. Up to now, there has been no means of enforcing temporary traffic regulations because they were not covered by an ordinance.

Council also adopted a resolution authorizing the village clerk to advertise for bids on the construction of a storage building at the village cemetery. Alternately, bids are to be asked on frame and brick veneer styles of construction.

In other action, Council approved the purchase of a truck-mounted spreader for the street department, that can be used for ashes, salt, cinders and slag. Estimated cost of the spreader is $350.

Columbiana Stamp Club members will tour the Franklin Furniture Co. plant during their meeting next Wednesday, Sept. 28. They will assemble at town hall at 7 p.m. for the tour, then return to the building for their business meeting.

Mrs. Cora Wilson of Youngstown was a recent visitor in the home of her brother, Wilfred Scott and family.

J. Raymond Scott, brother of Mrs. W. Scott of Portsmouth, Va., died Thursday. Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Scott attended the funeral.

The training school held Monday evening in the Lutheran Church was attended by 98 persons from this area.

Mrs. Ellis Hayes and daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Bixler of Wooster, visited in the Wilfred Scott home Monday. Mrs. Hayes remained for a short visit before she leaves for her home in Florida. She is a former Columbiana resident.

Kennedy Naive About Communists, Nixon Asserts

EN ROUTE WITH NIXON (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon stepped up his Midwestern vote drive today, picturing his Democratic presidential rival as naive about the Communist mind and beholden to big labor unions.

The GOP nominee chose Sen. John F. Kennedy, the Democratic candidate, and Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev as twin targets in a swing through Michigan Tuesday.

Khrushchev's ominous presence in New York for the United Nations session lent timeliness to his repeated suggestion that the Massachusetts senator shows a naive attitude about Khrushchev and the men in the Kremlin.

Nixon proposed, too, in talks at Mount Clemens, Flint and Saginaw, a political moratorium on talk of American weakness or division, a central theme in Kennedy's political address.

Then, in Bay City Nixon renewed his appeal for rank and file labor votes in that heavily organized state.

To a crowd of more than 9,000 in a dew-dampened high school stadium, Nixon again told his audience he would not say what he quoted Kennedy as saying in Detroit on Labor Day—that he was 100 per cent for everything the labor leaders want and 100 per cent against what they oppose.

"The president of the United States has to be for all the people and he must belong to no one group 100 per cent," Nixon declared.

"I feel it to be my responsibility to stand for what is best for all Americans—union members and non-union members."

Boys Who Stole Car Returned to Cleveland

LISBON — Three Pennsylvania youths apprehended at Minerva early Sunday in a stolen car were released Tuesday to the custody of U.S. Deputy Marshal Santon Weig for transfer to Cleveland.

The car was stolen from McKees Rocks, Pa., where two of the boys, aged 16 and 17, live. The third member of the trio is Charles E. Hawk, 20, Pitcock, Pa.

They fled a $2 gasoline bill at the Friendly Four restaurant south of here and headed west on Route 30 Sheriff Russell J. VanFossan issued a radio alert and Minerva Police were waiting when the boys arrived.

They were returned to the county jail here and were questioned Monday by the FBI.

Down On The Farm

Blight Hits Potatoes

Late blight on potatoes is severe in some areas of Ohio, according to Robert Partyska, extension plant pathologist at Ohio State University.

The disease has been found in Minnesota and Wisconsin as well. Potato and tomato growers are advised to watch their fields for the disease even though they have been spraying regularly.

If late blight is found in potato fields, Partyska suggests the use of vine killers to avoid infection of the tubers.

Delay Wheat Sowing

Columbiana County farmers can avoid Hessian fly damage to wheat by waiting until Sept. 26 to sow seed, according to County Extension Agent Floyd Lower.

He says extension entomologists at Ohio State University report that the insect is numerous enough in Ohio to cause damage to fields planted before this "fly free" date.

Child Taken from Couple at Gunpoint

Ohio Mother's Girl Restored To Georgia Foster Parents

CLEVELAND (AP)—Judge Dan Wasserman today granted a habeas corpus action restoring blonde, 5-year-old Dorothy Ann Patterson to her foster parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Patterson of Trenton, Ga.

The decision in Common Pleas Court brought an emotional outburst from the child's natural mother, Mrs. James Broyles of Cleveland.

Mrs. Broyles tearfully embraced the child and protested "I didn't give her away. She's mine. God gave her to me. I suffered for her."

A moment later, in the hallway, she fainted. When she was revived she declared, "They can't do it. That's the same thing they do in Russia."

The Pattersons and Georgia authorities contend that the Broyles and two unidentified men went to the Patterson home a week ago and took the child at gunpoint. A Georgia charge of kidnapping is pending against the natural parents. There are under bond here on fugitive charges.

Mrs. Broyles claims the little girl was left with a grandmother who gave her to the Pattersons, and that she had no knowledge of a Georgia court order authorizing the Pattersons to adopt Dorothy Ann.

Harry Elcomin, attorney for the Broyles family, argued that the only time consent from the natural parents is not needed in an adoption case is when a child has been abandoned.

Judge Wasserman said "the grandmother was not in a position to take care of the little girl—therefore she was legally abandoned."

The judge also noted from the bench that in the fall of 1957 the mother was present when a Georgia court denied a habeas corpus action in tended to restore the child to the Broyleses.

"This court must respect the laws or actions of another state," said the judge. "In the present case there is no evidence to support any claim of fraud. Habeas corpus granted."

In Georgia, Solicitor General Earl B. Self said Monday that he will seek extradition of the natural parents, either on the basis of a present warrant or on the basis of an indictment later by the grand jury in Dade County.

Monuments to Pres. (Maj. Gen.) Garfield and Maj. Gen. M. D. Leggett

Rarely indeed has any place in the South been named for a Union general of the Civil War. Ohio's General William Tecumseh Sherman in his book stated: "Along Peach Tree Creek was an eminence then called Bald Hill, but since known as Leggett's Hill, from which Atlanta could be shelled."

This hill was named for Major General Mortimer D. Leggett, commander of the Third Division of the 17th Army Corp, whose troops captured the location from General Hood's troops in the battle of Atlanta.

General Leggett, from Mont-ville in northeastern Ohio, entered the Union army as Colonel of the 78th Ohio Volunteer Infantry which was organized at Zanesville, January 11, 1861. This regiment was at the battle of Shiloh as well as in the Atlanta campaign, for which Ohio supplied 76 regiments of infantry, seven regiments of cavalry and 15 batteries of artillery. Following the Civil War, General Leggett returned to his law practice in Cleveland. At the dedication of the Soldiers and Sailors Monument on Public Square in Cleveland, July 4, 1894, he was Grand Marshal of the parade that was hailed as "one of the greatest and most comprehensive processions ever seen in Cleveland."

General Leggett's interests in education led him into a prominent role in establishing a free school system in Ohio. Today his monument, a huge boulder, over his last resting place in Cleveland's beautiful Lakeview Cemetery, is just across the road from the impressive monument and tomb of President James A. Garfield, wartime friend of General Leggett and a Civil War Major General in his own right before moving to the White House.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I've been married less than two months and I work in an office. My husband is a gambler. He will bet on whether or not it's going to rain next Sunday. His favorite form of gambling is the horses and he's flat broke all the time.

He hasn't given me one cent since we've been married. When I ask him for a few dollars he says, "You're working, aren't you?"

I think this is unfair and I'm seriously considering phoning his boss and asking him to hold my husband's paycheck until I can get there to pick it up.

I realize this wouldn't look too good for my husband but at this point I don't care how it looks. Can you advise me? — GAMBLER'S WIFE.

Dear Gambler's Wife: If you think you've got trouble now, just phone the boss and ask him to hold your husband's check until you get there. The odds are about 7-5 you'll get him fired. A nonprofit organization in the West known as Gamblers Anonymous has done a remarkable job of rehabilitating these sick people. Write for their literature. The San Francisco address is P.O. Box 2738, In Los Angeles, It's P.O. Box 17173.

Working Coed

Dear Ann: I'm a girl 17 who must earn her own money for clothes, school supplies and extras. My parents are divorced and, although Dad is supposed to send support money, he misses about half the time.

I have a chance to take a job as a car hop after school and on weekends. My mother claims car hopping is not a respectable job for a girl. She is against the uniform I would have to wear and says the tight pants are vulgar and the girls look like chippies. Mom asked me to write to you for your views. Please be liberal.

Thank you. — NEEDING A JOB.

Dear Needing: Any honest job is respectable — it's the people who are not always worthy of respect.

Slacks need not look as if they were painted on. If you get a pair that fits properly I see nothing wrong with either the uniform or the job.

'Hers' Not 'His'

Dear Ann: In your column recently you wrote, "Working coeds who label money 'His' and 'Hers' like bathroom towels sooner or later run into trouble." I say, "Amen, Sister."

Six years ago I married a girl who had an invested income of $100 a month. Two years later her father left her additional money, slightly larger than my earned income. She keeps her money separate and says, "The husband should support his family—regardless."

Now whenever she wants to buy something ridiculously expensive she pouts if I say no, then buys it with her own money. Our two children have learned to ask their mother when they want something, because "Dad is always broke and Mom is loaded."

I do NOT want her principal but I think we should combine our monthly incomes, live within a budget, split the savings and invest it for the family. Comment, please. — TEX.

Dear Tex: Amen, Brother.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Salem News, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Court Asked to Review Traffic Death Verdict

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — The West Virginia Supreme Court was asked today to review a Mason County order directing a verdict for a Columbiana, Ohio, truck driver in connection with a Nov. 21, 1959, highway death.

Mason County Sheriff Earl C. Mohr sought the review as administrator of the estate of 3-year-old Patricia Arlene Moncrief of (214 S. Main St.) Middletown, Ohio.

The girl and her mother, Mrs. Jean C. Moncrief, were killed in a collision between the family car and a tractor-trailer operated by Neil Schader, defendant in the suit, on W. Va. 17 four miles south-east of Henderson.

The Moncrief family was en route from Middletown to spend the Thanksgiving holidays with relatives in Richmond, Va. The lower court suit on behalf of the child was for $10,000.

The Doctor Says

By Dr. H. T. HYMAN

First-Aid Now Includes Heart Massage

With the encouraging statement that "all that is needed are two hands," a trio of surgeons from the Johns Hopkins Hospital describe a simple method by which they have successfully revived 20 patients whose hearts suddenly ceased to beat.

Following experiments performed on more than 100 dogs, Drs. K. Owenhoven, Jude and Knickerbocker satisfied themselves that it was possible to massage the heart and restore its beat without opening the chest.

Dr. H. T. Hyman, or resorting to electrical stimulation.

The method they recommend can be applied "by anyone, anywhere."

AND SINCE IT can do no harm, it may be worth your attention despite the fact that most of us will never be confronted with the urgent situation of what to do when a fellow human being suddenly collapses before our eyes.

Here's how you carry out closed-chest massage of the heart:

1. Turn the patient on his back, preferably against some firm support.

2. Stand or kneel on the left side of the subject.

3. Place the heel of your right hand on the lower portion of the breast bone (sternum). If your hand is correctly positioned, your palm will be over the right edge of the breast bone and your fingers will point outward in the direction of the armpit.

4. COVER THE right wrist with the heel of the left hand. If correctly positioned, your middle finger will point upward in the direction of the Adam's apple.

5. Now, at a rate of 60 to the minute, press both hands down until you note that the sternum is depressed about an inch. If necessary, add the weight of your body to the pressure exerted by the hands.

6. Between compressions, lift both hands to permit the breast bone to resume its normal position.

7. At each compression stroke, blood is forced out of the heart. At each lift of the hands, the heart is allowed to fill.

8. IF HELP is at hand, request an assistant to begin mouth-to-nose respiration at a rate of 18 to 20 per minute.

9. Continue your efforts for at least an hour unless relieved by a physician or the arrival of an emergency unit. One of the Hopkins' patients was revived after 65 minutes of closed-chest cardiac massage.

I do hope this turns out to be the most useless piece of information you've ever received.

On the other hand, think of what it might mean if only a single reader restored a single life as a result of remembering the work of this Hopkins trio.

For a copy of Dr. Hyman's leaflet "How to Choose Your Family Doctor," send 10 cents to Dr. Hyman, care The Salem News, Box 489, Dept. B, Radio City Station, New York 19, N.Y.

The Missing State Platform Plank

If the state platform adopted by the Republican and Democratic conventions in Columbus last week seemed routine and uninspiring individually, they are the more so when viewed side by side in comparison with each other.

Of necessity dictated by their political use, the platforms are vague and general on most subjects, and in general terms both parties advocate about the same things for Ohio.

Both Republicans and Democrats promise to keep their eyes on the problems of education, public welfare, labor, agriculture, mental health, highways, natural resources and civil rights so they will be in positions to meet the problems in responsible and statesmanlike ways.

IN SOME PLANKS, the language used was so similar in the two platforms that it appeared to have been written by the same hand. Indeed, it may have been, since both parties lend sympathetic ears to groups eager to plug for their goals regardless of which set of politicians winds up in control of the machinery of state government.

There were some differences, of course. For instance, the Republicans pledged continued reservation of the use of the income tax in Ohio for the municipalities, while the Democrats passed up this position even though it was propounded by their governor last year.

The Republicans, in the same plank, talked about local government all over the state, while the Democrats appeared to confine their interest in local government to measures to help the metropolitan areas.

Where the platforms did get specific, it was in the unsurprising realm of pure political mudslinging. The Republicans, currently the administration and the Democratic Legislature and promised to restore sound reason to state government when they recapture the reins. The Democrats, currently the "ins," talked about what a fine job they have done after those "awful" Republican years and promised to keep on that way.

YET SUCH JUDGMENT on the platforms is probably overly harsh. The real fault lies in the fact that Ohio law required that the conventions be held and the platforms written.

Perhaps the wisest platform for both parties to adopt would have been one with a single plank — pledging to change the statute which demands that state platform-writing conventions be called every two years.

Now that state administrative terms have been switched to four-year length, with the elections held in the even-numbered years between presidential elections, it would seem much more logical to have conventions every four years when full state administrative tickets will be running.

In the presidential-election years, the parties' national platforms naturally take precedence in scope and interest and the national candidates claim the overriding public interest.

On the four-year state convention system, the state party organizations would have less competition from the national political picture, could devote more attention to state candidates and could do a more penetrating job on writing platforms of real significance in the important realm of state government.

How the Politicooky Crumbles

Sometime before election day in November, every voters will have to settle the problem of Agriculture Secretary Ezra Taft Benson in his conscience.

Secretary Benson stands for something in the 1960 campaign that will not go away merely because it's unpleasant to think about.

It has been his lot in partisan politics to be picked as a prime target by the party out of power. The Democrats are being assisted in their interperate abuse of this deeply dedicated man by Republicans who do not feel they can afford to defend him in farming areas where his name is anathema.

Mr. Benson has been thrown to the political wolves.

He thinks agriculture shouldn't be a political issue, but the fact is that politicians have made it an issue and they don't care what happens to him.

The further fact is he has dared to say what they know—that partisan politicians have no remedy for any of the things that make farmers dissatisfied.

The partisan game is to fool farmers into believing one set of politicians can do what another set of politicians could not do. It is Mr. Benson's tough luck in 1960 to be caught between the battle lines of competing camps.

If he were merely another politician, he would sink into oblivion. He would run away and perhaps come back to fight some other day. But Ezra Taft Benson is not merely another politician. He is an advocate of keeping agriculture from being the first segment of private enterprise to be captured outright by the socialists who are making farmers depend on government for income.

This is why every voter will have to grapple to some extent with the problem of Secretary Benson before the 1960 campaign is over. He is the embodiment of the key issue as another coalition of millionaires and the bosses of mass-voting blocs in the country's cities bids for a mandate to set up instrumentalities of federal power over the lives of the American people.

In some places, Secretary Benson is as unpopular among Republicans as he is among Democrats. But in places where Republicans still refuse to swallow socialist nostrums spooned out by multi-millionaires and machine bosses, Ezra Taft Benson—the No. 1 political scapegoat of 1960—looks a cubit or two taller than any of the people who are sniping at him.

Football, Twilight, Leaves, Heartaches

It can't be predicted how many times it will happen this fall. But it can be predicted that it will happen and that heartache will be never-ending when it does.

There will be a football bouncing crazily, as footballs do. Or it might be a baseball rolling straight and true, in the manner of baseballs. Or there might be no ball at all.

Just a child running toward the street.

The time would be early dusk. It would be the special dusk that comes in the fall—a half-light in which some things can be seen clearly and others scarcely can be seen at all.

It depends on what is being looked for. Things not looked for have a frightening way of becoming suddenly visible in the autumn dusky.

Once Over

An automatic post office, with electric-brain handling and distribution of mail is being opened in Providence, R. I. Your letter will now get in the WRONG box without the touch of human hands. If note to hour Aunt Mamie in Penobscot, Me., gets to somebody's uncle in Galveston, Texas, it will be an error in electronics.

The Post Office Department is also experimenting with a system which electrically reads and transmits letter to destination in less than one second. This can kill romance. In a mechanical mixup we can fancy business communication and love note getting merged and coming out!

Millicent X. Bush, Jr., General Manager Federated Steel Corp.: I adore you and am forwarding the carload of iron pots with love and kisses.

I can't sleep because you are ever in my thoughts which will be sent to you f.o.b. as requested, with 10 per cent off for cash, my darling. Etc., etc.

But it is the Providence mechanized post office that interests us. Mechanization should make a post office into a pretty cold place, eliminating the warm, human, chummy mood once dominant.

The post office was a sort of public meeting place, featuring smiles, greetings and gossip. The stamp clerks were fellows you knew for years by first names. You could get a distant view of the postmaster to see if he was on the job or out on a political campaign.

Engineers had nothing to do with the post office and it was untouched by science. No buttons, no gears, no gadgets. Just people, mail and bad pens.

Will the mechanical brain take care of those pens? Has science taken hold so that when one gets useless a light is flashed, a bell rung and a hi-fi recording played?

KHRUSHCHEV will be limited to Manhattan Island. If he blew up over Disneyland, how will he feel if he can't see Coney Island, Palisades Park and the new Aqueduct Race Track. The limitation guarantees Nikita an exclusive Broadway run, and he may call it an imperialistic plot if he can't give special matinees.

The famous painting of Paul Revere's Ride in Old North Church may be lost to the church and sold at auction unless $14,000 price can be raised. Paul Revere Painting Fund, of Boston, is trying to raise the money, and, as did Revere, should "win galloping."

Educators in many cities are debating the question whether high school kids, driving their own cars to school, can do so without harm to school standing. General opinion seems to be that the lure of fun, speed and excitement is too much, and that what is needed is more "horsepower" in parents and educators, assuring sufficient power to make a firm "NO" take the hills.

In London a lady got out of a chauffeur-driven Rolls Royce and carted a bag of "wash" into a laundromat where she did it herself. That's what we call thrift in the extravagant manner.

"Can't Understand It Jack --- He's BEEN Broken"

U.S. Code Still Safe

By DAVID BARNETT

Soviets can break the highest secret codes the U.S. possesses.

THE DEFENSE DEPARTMENT expert made these points:

1. The mathematical theory behind the use of computers for coding is common knowledge in all countries. Machine codes cannot be broken without other machines, which the Soviets already have.
2. As standard routine, the "codes" of the coding machines are changed often—sometimes before even one message is completed. This merely requires a man to pull a switch.
3. Using similar machines, codes can be cracked by an "exhaustion attack" testing each element in the coded message against each possible element in the original language until the cryptogram makes sense.

But this takes time. Even if successful, the time lag may make the information obtained useless and the exercise does not help future code-breaking because of the frequent changing of the code.

The expert point out that theoretically, a machine code can be devised that can be demonstrated mathematically to be unbreakable—a system with such an incredible order of complexity that there is never a repeat in it.

By "repeat," the expert means the use of the same signal more than once to stand for the same word, letter or group of words in a message.

A year ago, when Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev was visiting in the United States, the Communist leader said the Soviet Union had obtained top secret intelligence ciphers and had decoded highly confidential messages. Mr. K said: "Your agents give us the code books and then we send false information back to you through your code. Then we send cables asking for money and you send it to us."

THE PENTAGON code experts have good reason to believe the Soviet leader was kidding. Code books have been in use since 1904. They are still used for short important messages between two points, such as Washington and Paris.

But only two copies of each code book are made up and each page is used only once.

The Defense Department experts are reasonably sure neither Mitchell nor Martin could give the Soviets useful information on code books. Their jobs involved the use of computers to try to break Russian machine code message intercepted by radio listening posts.

The Pentagon expert did not, however, minimize the possible importance of the defections in other fields. The two men, who were employed by the National Security Agency, may be able to give the Soviets an accurate picture of the U.S. eavesdropping net. North American Newspaper Alliance

Khrushchev's Blunder

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Closed Door on Negotiations with West

What real progress toward world peace could have been made by Nikita Khrushchev if he had been endowed with a fundamental understanding of diplomacy? As it is, he has committed the worst blunders in the history of diplomacy.

One rule, which has behind it centuries of tradition, is that the door is never deliberately closed and that, however disturbing the crisis may be, it is wise always to give your opponent an honorable way to continue negotiations.

The Soviet premier had everything to gain and nothing to lose before he deliberately scuttled the summit conference at Paris last spring.

There was a good chance that he might have gotten a workable agreement on the Berlin problem—a revision of the legal requirements for the four allies—and he would have been hailed on both sides of the Iron Curtain as a peacemaker.

His prestige certainly would have grown, at least inside the Communist bloc.

Why did the Soviet dictator throw away his chances? Was he just a blunderbuss—a man without the knowledge of Western psychology that he should have had?

Did his advisers fail him, or was he too stubborn or egotistic to listen to them when they gave him sound advice?

AS A PROPAGANDIST and showman, Mr. Khrushchev has made dramatic efforts to enhance his own standing but except for the dictatorship power he wields over a vast empire, he would certainly have no more prestige in the world today than a faltering Lamumba.

To have his movements restricted to Manhattan Island by the government of the United States is the biggest humiliation any premier of a big country could suffer. But he had it coming to him after his ruthless denunciation of the President of the United States last spring.

It wouldn't have been regarded as out of order if the Soviet premier had merely used severe language in opposing another government's actions or views but to make his attack personal and to belittle the head of a foreign power is about the most senseless tactic a would-be diplomat ever could be guilty of employing.

The people of Russia have had trained diplomats in past history and the Slavic nations as a whole have turned out men who have been skillful in dealing with international problems. But Nikita Khrushchev has broken all records for blundering in diplomacy.

What is most tragic from the standpoint of the Russian people is that they could be plunged into a devastating war by the same capricious man who poses as a friend of peace.

His world today is not accepted in the world at large.

The pledges he says he will give on disarmament are regarded in advance as worthless.

He is wasting his breath at the United Nations General Assembly.

If there were a free government in Moscow, another premier would have been elected last May and Khrushchev himself would have been relegated to political limbo.

It is Khrushchev, however, who wields power today in the Soviet Union, and he is trying vainly for a new position of vantage by an ostentatious maneuver at the United Nations.

In bringing his henchmen from other countries to New York and endeavoring to give the appearance of a mighty bloc, he is certainly not fooling the free world.

THE SOVIET premier's propaganda is ineffective primarily because of his record of duplicity and deception. After wooing the American President and getting an invitation to come to the United States a year ago, the Soviet boss said that, of course, Mr. Eisenhower could come to Russia on a return visit and that television and broadcasting facilities similar to those Mr. Khrushchev enjoyed while in this country would be available there to the American President.

It was to have been an opportunity for reciprocity on the basis of a new understanding.

But the Soviet premier became afraid of what thoughts might be put into the minds of his own people. Although boasting that communism could stand up in any debate against the arguments of the noncommunist philosophy of free enterprise and human liberty, the truth is that the Soviet premier was fearful and looked for some way to get out of his promise.

He found the excuse in the U2 incident, which any diplomat should have known was not worth the hullabaloo created over it.

Indeed, when the Lusitania was torpedoed in 1915 by a submarine of the Kaiser's government, and 114 Americans traveling aboard the unarmed passenger ship were drowned, the Washington government didn't even break off diplomatic relations with the Imperial German government but merely sought assurances that the incident would not be repeated.

A way was opened whereby instructions to submarine commanders could be revoked and by diplomacy war was averted for nearly two years.

Actually, the United States last spring did immediately order U2 flights discontinued.

From a diplomatic standpoint, Khrushchev gained his point. But he didn't have enough knowledge of civilized diplomacy to take advantage of it.

Instead, he demolished a diplomatic negotiation of the highest importance and set back the whole situation in a troubled world. History will say—what a blunderer was Nikita Khrushchev!

Plowing and Politics

By RICHARD SPONG

The Soil Conservation Field Day and National Plowing Contest opened today at the Burton and Dorcas Ode farm near Sioux Falls, S.D.

And this year, just as it is every presidential election year, the event is more than just an annual jamboree for conservation conscious farmers and takes on the trappings of an overgrown combination of state fair, hoedown and political picnic.

The site this year offers the right combination of crops for the plowing match and the right combination of level land and hilly terrain. Also—and this is important any year, and particularly so in a presidential year—it's close to a rural area population center and affords the best kind of forum for farm speeches by candidates Nixon and Kennedy.

THE DEMOCRATIC nominee, Sen. John F. Kennedy is scheduled to speak Thursday and the Republican nominee, Vice President Richard M. Nixon is scheduled to speak Friday.

In his farm speeches so far Kennedy has fastidiously shunned specifics.

While Nixon has talked in general terms of a world food distribution plan through the United Nations, he also has been vague on specifics.

Unless there is an overnight change in the campaign techniques of the two candidates, spectators at the Ode farm probably will get something less than they might hope for.

A magazine with more than three million farm family readers, "The Farm Journal," probably hit it on the head when it editorialized: "The truth is, neither party has much new farm medicine, despite the strenuous effort of the platform writers and the candidates to make it seem so. . . . The technique will be to convince farmers that 'we're better friends of yours than they are' rather than to flourish new ideas."

Despite the misgivings of "The Farm Journal" the campaign which has been lackluster so far may produce some real fireworks in the next two days.

THE APPEARANCE of President Truman at the Dexter, Iowa, plowing match Sept. 18, 1948, is reported to have been a major turning-point of the 1948 presidential campaign.

He staged a typical "Give 'em Hell" performance for the assembled farmers. "Wall Street reactionaries" were putting "fabulous sums" into Republican campaign coffers, not "for the love of the Republican candidates," but because Wall Street expected its money "to elect a Republican administration that will listen to the gluttons of privilege first and to the people not at all."

Candidate Thomas E. Dewey passed up the Dexter festivities for a farm speech in nearby Des Moines two days later.

No subsequent presidential nominee has made that mistake.

It was at the national plowing match at Kasson, Minn., that Gen. Eisenhower made his later abandoned pledge of not merely 90 per cent of parity but "full parity" and further declared: "I stand—and the Republican party stands—behind the price-support laws now on the books."

The news invites letters from its readers on all important current topics, but the letters should be brief, not to exceed 200 words and they must bear the signature and address of the writer to insure publication. Unsigned letters can not be published.

Snowbergers Mark 50th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. James E. Snowberger of 537 Franklin St. celebrated their golden wedding anniversary Sunday with an open reception at their home.

One hundred and ten relatives and friends from Salem, Homeworth, Jewett, Lisbon, Beloit, Damascus, North Canton, Louisville, Youngstown, Canfield, Cleveland and Columbiana greeted the couple.

White and gold was the color theme of the refreshment table which was laid with a linen cloth. White tapers in gold holders graced either side of the three-tiered cake which was decorated with yellow and white roses, white bells and gold leaves and topped with an ornament of white roses and a gold "50" in a silver horseshoe. Daughters and granddaughters served the guests.

The honorees received many gifts and flowers. The gift table was laid with a gold-colored cloth.

The Snowbergers were married in Salem Sept. 20, 1910, and have lived most of their married lives here.

They are the parents of five children, Frances Snowberger at home, Lulu Sanor of Homeworth, Marietta Albright of Jewett, Lillie Evelyn Brown of Jennings Ave. and James Jr. of Lisbon. There are 16 grandchildren.

U.S. Rocket Hurls Radiation Study Payload Into Space

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The Air Force's new Blue Scout space rocket blasted off today in an effort to hurl a radiation study package 16,600 miles into space. The experiment could lead to a means of detecting nuclear explosions high above the earth.

The 40-foot four-stage rocket started from this missile test center at 8:02 a. m. Tucked in its nose was a 32.8 pound payload packed with instruments to probe radiation mysteries in space.

All four solid-fuel stages ignited with clock-like precision. An hour later, project officials reported clear signals were being received from the 32.8 pound payload as it zipped further into space.

state forward my protest to President Eisenhower," Popovic said in icy tones.

Temperatures were fraying and the atmosphere was ominous in New York.

It was against this background that the General Assembly began the second day of its deliberations—a day in which issues dividing the East and West were to come up for consideration.

Heaviest in History
The agenda for this 15th session is the heaviest in the Assembly's history, with 87 proposed subjects for discussion.

Some are listed simply as "Question of Hungary," and "Question of Tibet." Both were the scenes of bloody uprisings, one against the Soviets, the second against the Communist Chinese.

The United States has placed the item on Hungary on the provisional list of topics. The Federation of Malaya proposed the discussion of the events in Tibet.

The Soviet Union in turn has proposed that the Assembly deliberate the problems of the Congo, in the U.N., and the "menace to world peace created by the aggressive actions of the United States of America"—probably based on the U2 case and the shooting down of the RB47, an American plane.

The Soviets also sponsored perhaps the biggest and most disputed issue of all—disarmament. All 87 items are merely subjects proposed for discussion. The 21-member steering committee of the Assembly must approve before they go on the agenda for formal discussion.

Add Element of Uncertainty
The admission of 14 new nations added an element of uncertainty as to how the voting may go. They were 13 African republics and the newly created Republic of Cyprus.

The list brings U. N. membership to 96, nearly twice the original 51 members of 1945.

It is believed that one of Khrushchev's purposes in coming to this session of the U.N. is to try his salesmanship on the new members, especially the representatives of the African governments.

During the opening session of the Assembly, he made himself highly conspicuous. He shook hands, posed for photographers, waved to other Communist delegations.

Then he rose from his chair, walked across the width of the great hall, and warmly shook hands with Castro. The Soviet and Cuban delegations are far apart in the seating arrangements.

He personally went to the rostrum to cast the Soviet ballot in the voting for president, which put Ireland's Frederick H. Boland in the chair.

One by one, the representatives of the 82 delegations filed up and dropped a ballot.

The result was a Soviet defeat—46 votes for Boland to 25 for Soviet-backed Jiri Nosek of Czechoslovakia, and 9 for Thor Thors of Iceland.

Once the speaking began, Khrushchev's face became impassive.

Though no price tag has been placed on a plan for economic aid to Africa, officials see it as a big plan—perhaps as large as the recent $500 million proposed by the United States for raising living standards in Latin America.

Other proposals concerning Africa would: let new nations train their own troops through U.N. arrangements; administer the United States' "food for peace" plan through the U.N. instead of through Washington and other countries; turn over some uranium-235 to underdeveloped nations in Africa and elsewhere to help build useful energy for industrial purposes.

quired from the City of Wooster, was turned over to the solicitor July 5 for a legal check. It was returned by the solicitor July 19 with recommendations, Mr. Abe said.

Between that date and Aug. 16, Abe contended, he called Committee of the Whole meetings to iron out the matter at which Prim's presence was requested. At neither meeting did the solicitor show up. Councilman Abe declared, so the ordinance was turned back to the mayor on Aug. 16 for further action.

Abe took exception to the absence of Solicitor Prim from meetings. He said Council has been "on the mayor's back about the solicitor" but that the mayor "has done nothing about it." He indicated that the solicitor "needed replacement."

Twin Truck Stop Operator Going Out of Business

LISBON — Norman Butler, operator of a teen-age hangout known as Twin Truck Stop near Salineville, is going out of business.

He pleaded guilty Monday before Juvenile Court Judge Louis Tobin to a charge of contributing to the delinquency of seven juveniles.

Butler, scheduled for a hearing Monday because he is to undergo an operation today.

Judge Tobin said Butler and his wife told him they were giving up the establishment and would not reopen.

The charge resulted from a July 16 dance party which, authorities claim, got out of hand when some one brought in beer. The dance crowd included six juvenile girls aged 14 to 16.

Judge Tobin fined Butler $200 and sentenced him to six months in the county jail. However, the court suspended the jail sentence on condition that Butler not operate the truck stop as a restaurant or dance place and to have no juveniles under 18 years of age around the place; not to operate a similar establishment anywhere for a period of two years, and to surrender his restaurant license to J. Warren Betts, assistant prosecuting attorney.

Township Fire Truck Will Be Repaired

The township truck is in the city's possession as part of a contract arrangement whereby the city provides fire protection in the township. The trip is expected to cost the city $150 for travel expenses.

Kennedy Pledges Action to Secure Peace If Elected

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. John F. Kennedy says the next president must act first and fast to strengthen the cause of peace—and cannot merely wait for Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's next move.

Pledging he would follow such a course if elected, the democratic nominee Tuesday night told a coast-to-coast television audience of the steps he would take "first and fast" to meet the Communist challenge.

In doing so, Kennedy rejected the call of his Republican rival, Vice President Richard M. Nixon, for a moratorium on talk of American weakness and for solid backing of President Eisenhower while Khrushchev is in the country for the United Nations General Assembly.

Speaking at a $100-a-plate Democratic rally where 1,300 diners cheered him again and again, Kennedy coupled criticism of the Eisenhower administration with his attack on the Soviets.

"Some people say it's wrong to say we could be stronger—that it's dangerous to say we could be more secure. But in times like these, I say it is wrong—and dangerous—for any American to keep silent about our future if he is not satisfied with what is being done to preserve that future," Kennedy said.

Starting today with a series of speeches in Tennessee, Kennedy will be on the road 19 days on a tour that will take him into 13 other states—from the East Coast to the Rocky Mountains.

ting machine, $367, and to the Hayes Manufacturing Co. for a smaller tapping machine at $405.

May Court Close-Out Sales
An ordinance, placing further controls and regulations on the conduct of "closing out sales" was given its first reading by Council last night. The six-page measure was submitted by Daniel Smith, a local jeweler on behalf of area merchants.

It will require the creation of a three-man commission to make certain excessive merchandise is not brought into a store after the announcement of the close-out is made. The commission will be appointed by the mayor to serve without pay and will check inventories to make certain there are no violations. The issue was brought up, according to Smith, because of recent extended closing out sales in town in which it is believed considerable merchandise was brought into stores after the close out was announced.

Utilities Superintendent Hayes reported that the Utilities Commission should close the year in good financial shape.

He said the water company has spent 68 per cent of its appropriation at this point in the year and that the sewer department has spent 64 per cent.

He reported that water collections for the month of August amounted to $16,222 while the total for the year to date is $119,479.

In the sewer department, collections for August amounted to $6,047 and for the year, $59,262.

Water pumpage for August was 47 million gallons, while for the year to date it was 369 millions.

County Club Hears Clothing Specialist

The next meeting will be Tuesday, Nov. 15, at East Palestine High School.

had received 1-3 year sentences for automobile theft.

The jailbreak wasn't discovered until about 3:15 a.m., when John William Spears, 23, another prisoner, went to city police to report that the other five had forced him to leave with them because he saw them breaking out. They apparently let him go his separate way some time after the escape.

The sheriff's office didn't know of the break until police relayed Spears' information, it was reported. It is believed to have taken place about midnight.

The prisoners made their escape by sawing bars out of a second floor shower room window, then dropping to the ground. Authorities said that Hoffee and Schneider, in since July, and Merritt, in since June when he was charged with armed robbery of the local bus terminal, had many visitors at the jail and anyone might have slipped them the saw blades they used.

Bradford and Wolford were convicted of stealing an automobile together. Spears, the apparently unwilling escapee, was awaiting trial on a forgery charge.

Double Victory by Pirates Cuts Magic Number to Five

Cards Win, 3-2, But Trail by 6;
Braves Tumble 8 Games Back
Bob Friend Racks Up Number 17,
Sets Pittsburgh Strikeout Record

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer
The World Series opens in Pittsburgh's Forbes Field two weeks from today—unless the Pirates plunge into the most complete stretch collapse in the National League since the tumble by Brooklyn's dying Dodgers of 1951. After breaking a tie on Hal Smith's eighth-inning home run in the second game for a 7-1 and 3-2 doubleheader sweep at Philadelphia Tuesday night, the Bucs are within five victories of their first flag in 33 years.

With a 90-55 record and nine games to play, the Pirates can clinch it with five victories no matter what the hot-running St. Louis Cardinals do. The second-place Cards, who trail by six with 11 left, put away their 12th victory in 15 games with a 3-2, ninth-inning decision over Los Angeles.

Third-place Milwaukee tumbled eight games back as Cincinnati whipped the Braves 9-0 behind the two-hit pitching of Jay Hook. Any combination of Pirate victories and Milwaukee defeats totaling two eliminates the Braves, who play six of their remaining nine against the Bucs.

Sam Jones won his 17th with a five-hitter as San Francisco defeated Chicago's Cubs 5-2 in the other NL game.

Right-hander Bob Friend won his 17th in the opener for the Pirates, giving up seven hits, walking just one and striking out six for a season total of 173 that cracked a 48-year-old Pirate record.

While Bill Virdon drove in three runs with a homer, double and single in the first game, Bob Skinner's single drove in the winning run against loser Robin Roberts (10-16), in the second inning. Skinner then lined a pair of RBI singles for a 2-2 tie in the nightcap before Smith's 11th homer, off Jim Owens (4-13), broke it up. Clem Labine (3-1) was the winner in relief of Harvey Haddix. The Cards matched Pittsburgh's fourgame streak after blowing a 1-0 lead on Norm Larker's two-run pinch single in the ninth. A two-out, broken-bat single by rookie Charley James then drove in two runs that beat Larry Sherry (14-9) after Ken Boyer's single and two walks loaded the bases. Reliever Lindy McDaniel (12-4) was the winner in his 62nd game.

Ed Bailey and Roy McMillan combined for five RBI behind Hook (11-7), who faced just 29 men while beating the Braves' Lew Burdette (17-12).

Julian, Faieta to Headline
Wrestling Card Here Oct. 5

Professional wrestling will return to Salem on Wednesday night, Oct. 5.

Promoter Frank "Toar" Faieta will take on 300-pound Ed Julian of Steubenville in one match in a card which also includes six women wrestlers. The Salem Junior Baseball Program will share in the proceeds from the matches which will be held at the Hi-Neighbor Dance Hall.

The match between Julian and Faieta will be a grudge affair. Faieta asked for the rematch after he was defeated here earlier in the summer by Julian. This bout, the first on the card, will get underway at 8:30 p.m. and will be one fall with a 30-minute time limit.

In the second bout, Lola Lora, 140, of St. Louis will take on Elaine Ellis, 138, of Chicago. The third and final bout will be a tag team match bringing together Mae Weston of San Francisco and Mary Reynolds of Columbus against Mary Alice Hillis of Columbus and Patti Neff of Denver.

Miss Weston is the veteran of the group, having been an acrobat and boxer before taking up pro wrestling. She has been wrestling since 1936.

Once-Beaten Ravenna Ravens Have Beef But Lack Speed

By DICK BRAUTIGAM
Big but no speed.
That's the impression the Ravenna High Ravens gave when they dropped their football opener, 20-14, last week to an only fair Akron Kenmore team.

Ravenna will make its first home appearance of the season Friday night against the Salem Quakers who will be playing on the road for the first time after chalking up two straight shutout victories at home.

The Ravens dominated their quarter. Two long passes near the end of the game beat them.

SINCE LAST YEAR, the Ravens have picked up reinforcements in a school consolidation with Ravenna Township. Three starters this year were regulars with Ravenna Township last season. They are quarterback Larry Kunar, 160, senior; guard Ziggy Weiclaw, 150, senior; and center Jim Drumheller, 161, junior.

Regulars back from last year's Ravenna City team, which lost to Salem, 48-0, are end Jerry Kapusta, 205, senior; end Bruce Parry, 140, senior; fullback Jack Van Campen, 170, junior; halfback Tyke Friend, 153, senior; and guard Wayne Miner 170, senior.

This leaves only three starters who weren't regulars at either Ravenna City or Ravenna Township last season. They are tackle Jim Maduri, 170, sophomore; Ron Morris, 205, senior; and halfback Terry Ryan, 150, junior.

TO ADD EVEN MORE beef to an already hefty line, Coach Randy Duchman plans to move 300-pound Doug Cowell in at middle guard on defense. Cowell, a junior, moves fairly well for his size. Roy Duncel also comes in on defense to replace Parry at end. George McDaniels, 140, junior, will come in for Kunar as a cornerman. Kunar, who wears contact lenses, was the regular quarterback last week with Kenmore for the first three quarters but fumbled away the victory. Ravenna lost the ball six times on fumbles in that game, including three inside the 10 yard line and another between the 10 and 20.

In spite of the fumbles, Ravenna led 14-8 going into the final quarter.

OUT OF DOORS with Field & Stream

By RUFUS LIDE

Along about 1937, there was an article in one of our news stand magazines that I wished I had saved. I am not sure but I think it was The Readers Digest. The important thing is, I remember the gist of the story.

A little over a hundred years ago an Englishman arrived in America and after a short sojourn, wrote back to one of his fellow countrymen something like this: "At last I have found Utopia, America, the land of plenty. The whole country is teeming with an inexhaustible supply of big game, not to mention wild turkey, partridge and countless numbers of lesser game that you can go out and help yourself to. The land is so fertile you can grow anything without fertilizer."

Think that over, this was no more than three generations ago. All of us know the situation today. Wild animals are no longer considered a necessary part of our neat supply.

FISH ARE the only animals we have, and they are aquatic animals, that can be purchased on the open market in any quantity, with no fear of depletion. We have fish laws that are used when necessary, protecting certain fishes from being overharvested.

But for our beloved ex-president "Teddy" Roosevelt, who happened to be a big game hunter, the American bison would have become extinct long ago.

Game laws were not enacted in time to save the dodo, albatross or passenger pigeons while the whooping crane is receiving special attention by our state and federal regulations in a very expensive effort to prevent the remaining few from becoming extinct.

IN TOO MANY instances, parents are not teaching their children that taking and possessing wild animals protected by necessary laws, is just as illegal as going down to the local market and stealing a loaf of bread or bringing home a stolen ham.

Taking protected wildlife is a petty thing that should be overlooked, according to some of our uninformed and inconsiderate people. Taking wildlife is a "petty" thing — better known as petty larceny.

In some instances, like taking an illegal deer, the value of the animal goes up to the point where it is grand larceny.

Any person possessing a raccoon, given a citation into court for speeding down the highway at 90 miles per hour. He was only "letting off a little steam." No one was killed. Why didn't that mean old cop overlook it?

Dykes Inks 1961 Pact To Manage Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP) — Jimmy Dykes will manage the Cleveland Indians in 1961, and he says if General Manager Frank Lane gets him a long-ball hitter, "the outlook for next season is bright."

"I'm not one to go overboard," said the 63-year-old Dykes Tuesday night in praising the tied-for-four-place Indians after inking a one-year contract to continue the job he took over Aug. 3.

"I think if we lack anything at all, it's a long ball hitter," Dykes said. "Knowing Frank Lane as I do, I think we'll have one at Tucson next spring."

Since Gary Bell developed arm trouble, Indians has been a problem for the pitching, but Dykes said "I like what I've seen" of the youthful hurling staff.

It was Dykes' handling of Barry Latman, who has won six straight, and Bobby Locke that helped Lane decide to retain the veteran manager, Lane said. That and restoration of club discipline.

Both Dykes and Lane made it clear that when Jimmy came here from Detroit and Joe Gordon left to take Dykes' job managing the Tigers, no commitment was made beyond the present season. Whether Dykes got a raise in pay was not disclosed.

Although the Indians have lost 27 and won only 22 since Dykes took over, Lane said he feels "Jimmy has done a most creditable job."

Injuries to infielders Woodie Held and Johnny Temple, Bell and outfielder Harvey Kuenn were factors in the Indians' fade-out since the All-Star game intermission.

Dykes has been in professional baseball since 1917 and played in his native Philadelphia with the Athletics for 15 seasons to 1932 and in the 1929-30-31 World Series. He spent seven more seasons with the Chicago White Sox.

Early in the 1934 season with the White Sox, Dykes started a 27-year managing career in which he has piloted six different major league teams. He never had a club finish higher than third.

Tuesday night's 9-1 victory by Detroit over the Indians enabled Gordon to bring his record with the Tigers to the same figure as Dykes, 22 won and 27 lost. However, since Gordon went to Detroit his Tigers have whipped the Dykes-led Indians in seven of 10 games, and the over-all season series went to Detroit 15-7.

Frank Lary fanned nine Indians Tuesday night, five of them in the first three innings, and scattered seven hits in winning his 14th against 15 losses. Rookie Ty Cline hit three singles, the second of which drove in Ken Aspromonte, who doubled in the sixth inning.

The Tigers unleashed a 14-hit attack that included consecutive home runs by Dick Gernert and Lou Berberet in the second inning, and Al Kaline's 15th homer of the season in the eighth. The visitors' big inning was the fifth when they scored six runs on five hits and chased Jim Perry with his ninth loss against 17 victories.

Rookie shortstop Dick McAuliffe started the Tigers' big rally with a triple and also had two singles.

Orioles Take Over 2nd Place

Yankees Are Six Victories From World Series Date

By The Associated Press
There were a few scoffs in late July when the New York Yankees, looking for pitching help in the American League race, came up with Luis Arroyo, a little lefty reliever who had been pretty much of a 50-so guy in the National League.

The Yankees were second, a game behind Chicago's White Sox, when they reached into the International league for Arroyo, who had worked for St. Louis, Pittsburgh and Cincinnati in the NL. But they've won 38 of 58 since, and little Luis has figured in a third of those victories, which have sent New York four games in front with 10 to play.

Arroyo was credited with neither a decision nor an official save Tuesday night, but he was the guy who set up a 2-1, 11-inning victory over Washington that left the Yankees just six victories shy of a World Series date two weeks from today.

After the Yankees blew a 1-0 lead on a wild pitch in the ninth inning, Arroyo cut short the rally by retiring pinch-hitters Pete Whisenant, on a short fly, and Johnny Schaefer, on a strikeout, with the bases loaded. He finished with 12-3 innings of hitless relief before the Yankees finally broke the tie on a bases-loaded error for their fifth straight victory.

That reduced New York's magic number to six over the Baltimore Orioles, who broke a second-place tie with idle Chicago by beating Boston 4-3. Detroit whipped Cleveland 9-1 in the other

The Yankees, given a 1-0 lead on Mickey Mantle's 36th home run in the fourth inning, were rolling behind rookie Bill Stafford's four-hit shutout until the ninth. Then two singles and a walk loaded the bases, and a wild pitch by reliever Jim Coates tied it before Arroyo hustled in. Baltimore, down 3-0, battled back with the help of Gus Triandos' 10th home run and broke a tie with two-out singles in the eighth by Gene Woodling, Jim Gentile and Brooks Robinson — who was ducking away from a pitch when he blooped a hit into right. Billy Hoelt (2-1) was the winner in relief.

Pigskin Picks

Buckeyes, Spartans Are Rated Favorites

By HAROLD CLAASSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—Traditionally, this is the first day of fall. But the fall you get on the calendar is nothing like the fall you can get trying to pick football winners.

(Last week's figures: 28 winners, 7 losers, 800.)
Mississippi over Kentucky: The Kentuckians have nothing to compare with the Jake Gibbs to Johnny Brewer battery.

Syracuse over Boston University: Last year, en route to their national championship Syracuse won this game 46-0. It could be as much this time.

Washington over Idaho: Little more than a workout for the Washington Rose Bowl kings.

Alabama over Tulane: Tulane last week defeated California. Now that Alabama has defeated Georgia, it must be considered a Southeast Conference title threat.

Michigan State over Pittsburgh: This one is on TV and it should be worth seeing. The Spartans' crop of sophomores reputed to be the best in the big ten.

Elsewhere: Kansas over Kansas State; Purdue over UCLA; Wake Forest over Clemson; Iowa over Oregon State; Nebraska over Minnesota; Oklahoma over North Carolina; Texas over Maryland; Georgia Tech over Rice; Columbia over Brown.

Friday night

Washington State over Denver, Iowa State over Detroit, Mississippi Southern over Hardin-Simmons, San Jose over Brigham Young.

Saturday
EAST: Army over Boston College, Cornell over Colgate, Dartmouth over New Hampshire, Harvard over Holy Cross, Lehigh over Delaware, Navy over Villanova, Pennsylvania over Lafayette, Rutgers over Princeton, Yale over Connecticut, VMI over Buffalo.

SOUTH: Auburn over Tennessee, Florida over Florida State, the Citadel over George Washington, North Carolina over North Carolina State, South Carolina over Duke, Georgia over Vanderbilt, Virginia Tech over West Virginia, Mississippi State over Houston, William & Mary over Virginia, Wofford over Davidson.

MIDWEST: Cincinnati over Dayton, Michigan over Oregon, Missouri over Oklahoma State, Notre Dame over California, Wichita over Xavier, Ohio State over Southern Methodist.

SOUTHWEST: Arkansas over Tulsa, Baylor over Colorado, North Texas State over Texas Western, Texas A & M over Texas Tech, Arizona State over West Texas.

FAR WEST: Air Force over Colorado State University, Arizona over Utah, College of Pacific over Marquette, Southern California over TCU, Wisconsin over Stanford, Wyoming over New Mexico.

Casey Coy Over Reports He'll Resign

NEW YORK (AP)—Anybody who says that Casey Stengel will retire from baseball at the end of the 1960 season knows more about it than Stengel himself.

So said the 70-year-old skipper of the Yankees today in the wake of New York's 2-1, 11-inning victory over the Washington Senators Tuesday night. The triumph moved them a step closer to the American League pennant.

Speculation over Stengel's retirement was prompted by columnist Joe Williams' prediction in the World Telegram and Sun that Casey finally will pull the curtain next month on his 50-year career as a player and manager.

"How the heck does he know when I don't?" asked Stengel. "And if I did, I wouldn't tell anybody. Certainly not now. I'm sure my players are not concerned right now about me. Their main concern is winning the pennant. And that's mine, too."

"I have a two-year contract," Stengel explained patiently. "It expires in October. At the proper time, I will sit down with my players and then everybody will know whether or not I'll be back next year."

A majority of the New York reporters who have traveled with the Yankees believe Casey will retire.

Fight Results

By The Associated Press
Los Angeles — Bobby Gordon, 167, Pittsburgh, knocked out Bobby Sand, 171, Los Angeles, 7.

Fort Lauderdale, Fla. — Freddie Blades, 176, Fort Lauderdale, outpointed John (Gorilla) Gould, 174, Miami, 10.

Boston — Larry Boardman, 139, Clearwater, Fla., stopped Pat McCarthy, Jr., 135, Boston, 9.

BIG 'O' HOOPS 23

DEFIANCE, Ohio (AP)—Oscar Robertson, in his first workout as a professional basketball player, scored 23 points for the Blue team in a Cincinnati Royals intrasquad game Tuesday. But his effort went to no avail as the Blues fell at the hands of the Whites. The Whites' Wayne Embry racked up 30 tallies, 30 tallies.

11 Pacers Set For Brown Jug

Bullet Hanover Is Favorite Thursday

DELAWARE, Ohio (AP)—Handers of 11 of the nation's top 3-year-old pacers made last minute preparations today for the 15th annual running of the Little Brown Jug.

The $66,510.89 pacing classic goes Thursday, with 2 p.m. EST the probable starting time for the first heat. Racing will continue at approximately hourly intervals until one horse wins two heats. If different horses win the first three dashes, those three will settle the issue in a finale mile.

The first - heat lineups were drawn Thursday, with expected favorite Bullet Hanover winning the No. 4 position. Bullet, who topped 2-year-olds last year with a 1:57 mile, will be after his first win on a half-mile track. But trainer-driver Johnny Simpson insists that the Delaware County track will not hinder the flash.

Major Goose drew the rail position. An Ohio entry, he will be driven by Jim Fitzpatrick. Highly rated Dancer Hanover with Del Miller driving and Muncy Hanover with Earl Avery in the sulky won the No. 10 and 11 spots respectively and will be forced to start over with Earl Avery in the sulky won the No. 10 and 11 spots respectively and will be forced to start in the second tier.

Betting Time, who has posted the fastest mile on a half - mile track by a 3-year-old this season — 1:59 3-5 is spotted in the No. 3 place.

Countess Adios, who broke six records Monday at this same track, is not eligible for the Jug. She is the winner of the first two jewels in pacing's triple crown, the Messenger Stake and the Yonkers Futurity.

A year ago, Adios Butler annexed the Jug to complete a sweep of the pacing classics.

In a co-feature of Tuesday's Grand Circuit card here, Florida, driven by Wayne (Curly) Smart of Delaware, romped home in 2:07 2-5 and 2:04 3-5 to win a straight heats victory in the 2-year-old trotting division of the Breeders' Fly Stakes.

It was Florikash's 12th heat victory in 17 starts, and her share of the $100,000 purse boosted her earnings over the $20,000 mark. The daughter of Florican-Kashaplenty is owned by the Castleton Farm.

Another Castleton Farm horse, Vacation Time, was victorious in the 2-year-old pacing division in the filly stakes. Frank Ervin steered her to a straight heat win with May Wave, also a Castleton horse, taking place honors each time. Times were 2:04 3-5 and 2:05 4-5-5.

Youngstown Gridders to Host Eastern Michigan Thursday

Youngstown University inaugurates its horde football season on Thursday when the Penguins battle Eastern Michigan University at Rayen Stadium.

The Thursday clash will be the first of five home contests set for Thursday nights. Kickoff time will be 8 p.m.

Youngstown lost a spirited battle against Toledo, 34-30, in the season's opener last Saturday. The Rockets rallied over two touchdowns in the final period, the last touchdown coming in the final 20 seconds.

Toledo substituted by units, but the pesky Penguins stayed in the contest using a limited amount of reserves. No serious injuries were reported although Frank Horvath suffered a slight pulled muscle in his back.

Horvath, playing his first game at left half, turned in a brilliant performance as he rambled for 124 yards in 18 carries. The clever sophomore added 98 yards in the passing department, and tallied two touchdowns.

Coach "Dike" Beede was no more than pleased with the showing of his boys' in the Toledo contest and plans no lineup changes for the Thursday tilt.

The Hurons of Eastern Michigan were defeated by Albion College in their opener, 21-7. So both teams will be looking for their first victory Thursday night.

Coach Fred Trosko reports his squad has a problem similar to the one at YU — no reserve strength. The Huron squad has been plagued with this problem for three years and apparently no real solution is in sight.

cent Leskosky, golf; home nursing, Mrs. Augusta Ibele; millinery, Mrs. Isabelle McCombe; oil painting, Matthew Mawhinney; religion, E. S. Kerr; school for foreign-born, Mrs. G. W. Wyer and Mrs. Heinz Meine; sewing, alterations, Miss Mae Montgomery; beginners sewing, Mrs. Thelma Murphy; singing for pleasure, F. Edwin Miller; square dancing, Vincent Andrus; Spanish, John Bongiovanni; slimnastics, Mrs. James Giffin; study of antiques, Charles McCorkhill; "Ladies Day Out," Mrs. Robert Kaminsky, chairman; "Globe Trotters," Mrs. Russell Thatcher.

A COURSE IN "Holiday Cooking and Decorating," will be presented by numerous instructors, and a leader for Y Co-eds between 18-25 will be chosen by the group and a meeting time will be set when registrations are complete. Although registrations for the classes were held Monday night, others may call the YW or register at the first session providing the class still has openings.

Mrs. Byers related experience and information she received at the YWCA School for Professional Workers recently at Lake Erie College for Women in Painesville.

A FALL STYLE SHOW was presented through the courtesy of McCulloch's store, modeling garments of the latest style and color for all ages.

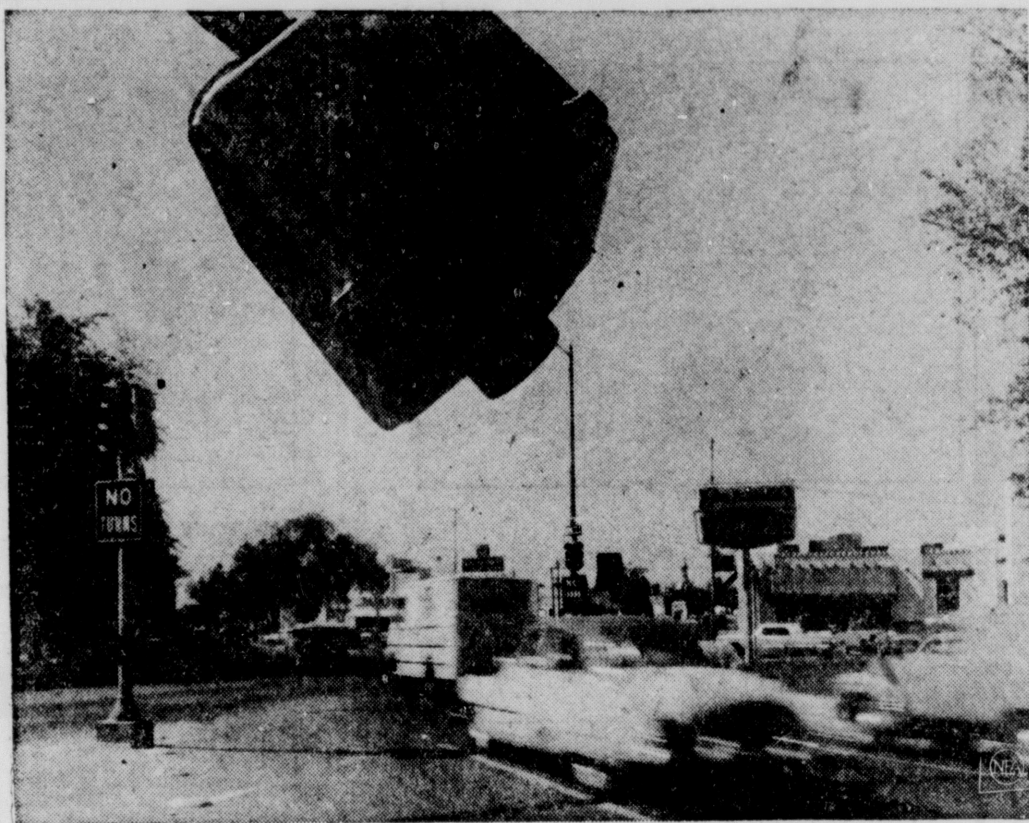

The models were Freddy Nedelka, Sidney May, Connie Sonagere, Freida Bender, Mary Mercer, June Wank, Juanita Swartz, Mary Lou Schuller, Florence McNeal, Jerry VanHovel, Sandy Knepper and Carol Rohrer.

Cleo Stirling, Margaret Virgil and Elizabeth Sickle were in charge of the event, which was narrated by Mrs. Fred Cope, Y-Teen director.

Mrs. Donald Smith and Mrs. Robert Oswald, board members, were co-chairmen of the hospitality committee, serving refreshments. Other board members who acted as hostesses were Mrs. Joel H. Sharp, Mrs. Frank Brian, Mrs. Cope, Miss Ruth Cosgrove, Mrs. Charles Dunlap, Miss Eleanor Murray, Mrs. Thomas Mercer, Mrs. Leland Patterson, Mrs. Lee Pelley, Miss Alice Whinery, Mrs. Eugene Young, Mrs. Myers, Miss Martha Bailor, Mrs. Lloyd Ormes.

REGISTRARS were Mrs. George Hoffman, Mrs. Wilson Baughman, Mrs. Ormes, Mrs. Robert Waterson III, Mrs. Ronald Whipkey, Mrs. William Washington, Mrs. Kaminsky, Mrs. Herbert Jacobson, Mrs. Edmund Schuster, Mrs. Kenneth Williams, Mrs. Henry Anderson, Mrs. Martin Lee Roth, Mrs. Wayne Brown, Mrs. Robert Love, Miss Sally Karp, Mrs. Deane Phillips, Mrs. Paul Campanelli, Mrs. Wyer and Mrs. Meine.

Mrs. Thomas Mercer headed the agenda committee, assisted by Mrs. Melvin York, Mrs. Phillips and Mrs. Richard Herron. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Windram provided the floral arrangements which decorated the "Y" throughout. Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Craig furnished appropriate music and the broadcasting facilities. Mr. and Mrs. Ray Pearce were in charge of seating arrangements.

TRAFFIC COP OF THE FUTURE — Device at top center regulates flow of traffic in Denver, Colo., by infrared sensing technique. The traffic detector, developed by Minneapolis-Honeywell, counts all passing vehicles and then dictates the red-amber-green setup to keep traffic flowing smoothly. It can spot and count cars traveling at speeds up to 80 m.p.h.

Red Cross to Discuss Its Blood Program

Ralph DeLuco, administrative director of American Red Cross Cleveland Regional Blood Center, and Miss Doris Harper, field representative of the eastern area, will be in Salem Friday at 1 p.m. in the local Red Cross office to discuss the failure of the Northern Columbiana Chapter to meet its goal in the blood collection program.

In a letter to Mrs. Hobart Butcher, executive director of the local Red Cross chapter, Mr. DeLuco said, "For the fiscal year of July 1, 1959, to June 30, 1960, your chapter produced 1,246 pints of blood and during this same period the center distributed to your chapter 1,499 pints of blood. Despite your poor production record, this center has consistently supplied your hospitals and residents of your chapter in excess of production. This is to advise you that if, within the next few months, production in your chapter is not within the 90 to 100 per cent range of quota, it will be necessary for your chapter to consider going on a credit system. Should any blood shortage be experienced in this center from now until the next mobile unit visit, blood will be supplied to your hospitals only after other chapters who are in the 90 to 100 per cent range are provided their blood needs."

"It is only through the communities recognizing their responsibility and by active participation that an adequate job in blood recruitment can be done," Mr. DeLuco declared, adding, "We hope that your chapter will take the necessary and positive action where indicated so that the blood program will improve during the remainder of the current year."

Mrs. Butcher urges all county chairmen of blood bank projects and all recruiters and anyone else interested in helping to insure the North Columbiana County Chapter of fulfilling its quota to attend this meeting.
